

JC² Cards — Saturday Sales Plan

5-Agent Advisory Panel | June 14, 2026 | Execute tonight into 9am ET Sunday

Executive Summary

The store has 11 orders and $174.87 in revenue today (Saturday). Goal: 5+ more sales before 9am Sunday. The core problem is a dead zone of base parallels priced $6.99-$14.99 with zero watchers and zero velocity. The June 7 proof point is clear: $1.99-$2.99 on hot rookie chromes drove 9 sales in one day. The plan collapses non-numbered base parallels into impulse brackets, fires the 8pm ET watcher offer blast as the Saturday evening anchor, and runs three sequenced repricing batches with snapshot refreshes between each. Numbered parallels, autos, and short prints are explicitly protected throughout.

Card	Current	Target	Reason
Cam Ward Select Premier Silver (306996442389)	$6.99	$2.99	Non-numbered. Proven velocity at $2.99. Cassini dead zone above $4.
Cam Ward Select base (306997193468)	$6.99	$2.99	Same logic. Zero watchers. Bracket collapse.
Cam Ward Select Gold Green x2	$8.99 ea	$3.99 ea	Non-numbered color parallel. Two copies create self-competition.
Cam Ward Phoenix (306996441756)	$10.99	$4.99	Phoenix base inserts are commodity tier. No comp support at $10.99.
Travis Hunter Thunderbirds x2	$8.99 ea	$4.99 ea	Base insert. Zero sales in $8-$11 band. Drops below mobile 'under $5' filter.
Travis Hunter Mosaic	$8.99	$4.99	Mosaic base RC parallel. Same dead zone. $4.99 matches May Pink Shock sold.
Travis Hunter Rookies and Stars	$8.99	$4.99	Non-differentiated insert. Saturday impulse buyer at $4.99, not $8.99.
Travis Hunter Mosaic Elevate	$11.99	$5.99	Subset insert justifies slight premium over base. Still below dead zone.
Ashton Jeanty Select Turbocharged	$10.99	$6.99	Named subset but not numbered. Above impulse ceiling for non-numbered Jeanty.
Ashton Jeanty Phoenix x2	$12.99 ea	$7.99 ea	Phoenix base. $7.99 is current impulse ceiling for non-numbered Jeanty parallels.
Ashton Jeanty Prizm Draft Picks	$12.99	$7.99	Not the flagship Prizm set. $12.99 above market position.

Projected Outcome

Conservative: 5 additional sales before 9am Sunday. Optimistic: 9 sales.

Mechanism	Projected Sales	Key Driver
Repricing (3 batches, ~75 drops)	3-5 impulse closes	Hot-name chromes at $1.99-$4.99. June 7 proof: 9 sales from same approach.
Watcher offer blast 8pm ET (15 listings at 115% off)	1-2 conversions	Caleb Williams 10-watcher listing is highest probability. Sunday-fear psychology.
Best Offer passive engine overnight (89 listings)	1-2 no-accepts	Hampton/Sanders at $14.99 vs $1.98 median — any serious offer gets accepted instantly.
Optional BIN drops at 9pm if <3 sales	0-1 additional	Price-drop notification acts as second trigger to existing watchers.

Panel Debate — Where They Disagreed

Debate 1 — Watcher offer timing

Conversion Optimizer argued for immediate afternoon blast. eBay Algo Expert and Ops Manager overruled: morning and 3pm sends exhausted cooldown slots. 15 clean-cooldown listings remain. Saturday 8pm is the Sunday-fear window. Firing at 3pm burns those 15 slots at lower-intent moment. 8pm anchor stands.

Debate 2 — Promoted listing rate spike eBay Algo Expert argued for 12-15% to punch through Saturday ad auction. Majority said no: risk is promoting $1.99 cards into losses before price-band filter is verified. Compromise: keep 8% rate, raise daily budget $10→$25. Same impression share, no downside risk.

Debate 3 — Jeanty Green /75 at $29.99

Pricing Strategist wanted to cut to $24.99 for velocity. Sports Card Market Analyst correctly held line: comps support $35-55 on Green /75, store is already cheapest at $29.99. Promoted listing carries impression load. Hold. Cutting $5 sacrifices anchor position for marginal probability gain.

Debate 4 — Snapshot refresh discipline

Ops Manager identified critical failure mode: applying repricing twice on the same snapshot re-executes the same 25-card queue, burning API quota and triggering revision throttle. Rule: always refresh → dry-run → apply. Never apply twice on the same snapshot.

Debate 5 — Numbered vs. unnumbered protection

Pricing Strategist enforced the guardrail throughout: do NOT conflate 'zero watchers at above-market price' with 'droppable.' Numbered parallels, autos, and SPs stay at current price. Travis Hunter Teal Black ($9.99) and Cam Ward Select Certified ($17.99) explicitly excluded from all drop queues.
